

WU (Vienna University of Economics and Business)

WU is not only the largest business and economics university in Europe, but also one of the best.

WU offers its students a large selection of attractive degree programs, efficient organization and administration, and a wide range of specialization areas and research opportunities. WU and its degree programs place consistently among the world's best in prestigious international rankings.

But that's not all: WU's most important quality reference is without a doubt the EQUIS accreditation it has held since 2007. This seal of quality, granted to only about 130 universities worldwide, is your guarantee that WU is the right choice for you.
