Scope & Objective

Since its inception in 2012, the WU Global Tax Policy Center has become one of the leading think tanks on the interface between tax policy, tax administration and tax law in today's global economy. Bringing together tax policymakers, tax administrators, tax practitioners, as well as researchers from around the globe, the Center provides a forum for discussions on tax policy formulation and implementation, drawing upon the experiences of developed and developing countries.

The Center conducts research and analysis, hosts debates, and teaches on global tax policy issues. Through its activities, it positions itself as a leading institution bridging the gap between theory and practice in the development and implementation of tax policy. The Center combines both the academic and practical perspectives in a highly international and interdisciplinary approach. The WU GTPC regularly cooperates with renowned experts worldwide, representing academia, international and regional organizations, governments and tax administrations, as well as with the civil society, business and advisory community.
