

Doctoral seminar on Comparative Tax Law Methodology Uppsala University, 1-2 September 2022

Doctoral candidates and PhD-candidates in tax law are cordially invited to attend a seminar on comparative tax law research and methodology at Uppsala University. The course aims at providing knowledge regarding comparative law methodology on research in tax law. Comparative tax law methodology is discussed from different perspectives, such as common law-, international-, EU law-, direct tax law-, indirect tax law perspectives – to mention a few. During the seminar, will be dedicated time to discuss the students' methodological issues in their dissertations with professors. The seminar will also be a great opportunity to build networks among the students in Europe.

The students will prepare assignments to be handed in before the seminar. To apply for the seminar send in the application form enclosed in this document (or an email with the information requested) no later than 15th May, 2022. A notice of acceptance will be given no later than 20th May. These assignments will be distributed when accepted to the seminar.

The seminar is one in a series of four, organized in association with Stockholm University, WU Vienna and Leiden University. The seminar is financially supported by Uppsala Center for Tax Law and is free of charge. Participants pay for their own travel and accommodation costs.

Please notice, on 30 and 31 August 2022, another seminar is being organised by Stockholm University on Transfer Pricing and Related Issues.

Welcome!
Prof. Dr. Katia Cejje

UPPSALA
UNIVERSITET

Preliminary Program

Wednesday 31st of August

18:00 Optional event organized by IFA/Sweden in Stockholm (in English, free of charge). Dinner will be served and transport to Uppsala will be organized.

Thursday 1st of September

PART I INTRODUCTION TO THE SEMINAR AND TO COMPARATIVE METHODOLOGY

9:00–9:30 WELCOME AND SHORT PRESENTATION OF TUTORS AND PARTICIPANTS
Prof. Katia Cejje and Prof. Bertil Wiman, Uppsala University and Uppsala Center for Tax Law

9:30–10:30 INTRODUCTION TO COMPARATIVE LEGAL METHOD(S?)
Prof. and Vice Dean of the Faculty of Law, Anna Jonsson Cornell, Uppsala University

10:30–11:00 TRADITIONAL SWEDISH FIKA (COFFEE BREAK)

11:00–11.30 CONT' INTRODUCTION TO COMPARATIVE LEGAL METHOD(S?)
Prof. Anna Jonsson Cornell, Uppsala University

11:30–12:00 DISCUSSION AND COMMENTS ON COMPARATIVE METHOD FROM A TAX LAW POINT OF VIEW
Prof. Bertil Wiman

12:0–14:00 LUNCH

PART II FOREIGN JURISDICTIONS, INTERNATIONAL TAXATION AND EU TAX LAW

14:00–15:15 COMPARATIVE INCOME TAX LAW IN COMMON LAW, CIVIL LAW AND OTHER JURISDICTIONS (& DISCUSSIONS)

Prof. Miranda Stewart, Melbourne Law School

15:15–15:45 COFFEE BREAK

15:45–16:45 THE TAX TREATMENT OF CROSS-BORDER SOFTWARE PAYMENTS. INTERACTION OF INTERNATIONAL LAW, EU LAW AND DOMESTIC LAW

Jacques Sasseville, Former Head, OECD Tax Treaty Unit

16:45–17:00 CONCLUDING COMMENTS FROM DAY 1

Prof. Katia Cejje

18:00–21:00 FOOD AND DRINKS AT ONE OF UPPSALA’S STUDENT CLUBS

Friday 2nd of September

PART III TAX LAW RESEARCH

9:00–9:15 WELCOME BACK

Prof. Katia Cejje

9:15–10:15 EXPERIENCE OF COMPARATIVE TAX LAW RESEARCH AND INDIRECT TAX (& DISCUSSION)

Prof. Eleonor Kristoffersson, Örebro University

10:15–10:45 COFFEE BREAK

10:45–12:15 EXPERIENCE OF COMPARATIVE TAX LAW RESEARCH AND DIRECT TAX (& DISCUSSION)

JD Richard Croneberg, Lund University & Prof. Bertil Wiman,

12:15–14:00 LUNCH BREAK

14:00–16:30 WORKSHOP & COFFEE

Participants will discuss their own specific thesis-related comparative tax law issues in smaller groups with tutors, Bertil Wiman, Katia Cejje, Miranda Stewart, Eleonor Kristoffersson, Jacques Sasseville, Anna Jonsson Cornell, prof. Yariv Brauner and Richard Croneberg.

16:30–16:45 SOURCES OF COMPARATIVE TAX LAW

JD Richard Croneberg

16:45-17:00 CONCLUDING COMMENTS

Prof. Katia Cejje, Uppsala University

UPPSALA
UNIVERSITET

APPLICATION FORM

Seminar on
Comparative Tax Law for
Doctoral candidates and PhD students
1-2 September 2022
Uppsala Center for Tax Law¹

Please e-mail this form/or relevant information to katia.cejie@jur.uu.se
by 15 May 2022²

Doctoral Candidate
Name:
Address:
Phone:
E-mail:
University:
Core issue of your dissertation:
When did you start your doctoral research? When do you expect to complete your dissertation?

Supervisor
Name:
University:
Email:
Phone:

If accepted by the organizing board, the undersigned confirms his/her obligation to participate in the seminar.

Date: Signature:.....

¹ Uppsala Center for Tax Law is supported by Deloitte AB, EY AB, KPMG AB, PwC AB, Skeppsbron Skatt AB, Mannheimers Swartling Adv byrå AB and Svalner Skatt.

² Acceptance to the seminar will be sent out on 10th of June.

Practical information

The venue is the Law Faculty of Uppsala University (Trädgårdsgatan 1, Uppsala) in room Fakutetsrummet. It is located in the city centre of Uppsala, next to the Cathedral. It is on walking distance from the rail way station (10 minutes). We will meet you at the entrance and let you in.

All meals for all participants are included in the seminar, according to the programme.

Uppsala CityStay Hotel is recommended. It is located only 100 meters from the Law Faculty.

There are several other hotels nearby. Please use your google skills. Uppsala city centre is rather small and you can basically walk everywhere in ten minutes. If you have any questions please do not hesitate to send an email to Katia.

Airports

The easiest way to reach Uppsala is by train from Stockholm (35 minutes) or from Arlanda airport. However, there are other connections as well.

Stockholm - Arlanda airport: 50 min by bus or 20 min by train to Uppsala. Most airlines fly to this airport.

Bromma airport: 20 min by bus to Stockholm city, and then 40 min by train to Uppsala.

Stockholm Skavsta airport: 80 min by bus to Stockholm city and then 40 min train to Uppsala.