

CURRICULUM

for the PhD Program in

Economics and Social Sciences

Pursuant to § 25 (1) item 10 of the Universities Act 2002 (Universitätsgesetz 2002), Federal Law Gazette (Bundesgesetzblatt, BGBl.) I No. 120/2002, last amended by the federal act promulgated in Federal Law Gazette I No. 129/2017, the following regulation is passed:

§ 1 Objectives

The PhD Program in Economics and Social Sciences teaches students the skills and abilities to comprehend complex economic and social-science related issues by means of scientific methods and models, and to perform their own research. Graduates of the PhD Program in Economics and Social Sciences have obtained a comprehensive academic qualification and a profound understanding of theory and methodology, allowing them to reflect critically on the academic work of others as well as on their own academic approach and performance.

The PhD Program in Economics and Social Sciences is aimed at students who intend to pursue an academic career and/or wish to obtain the academic qualifications to do so. Students of the PhD program in Economics and Social Sciences are therefore intensively involved in the academic discourse of the supervising academic units.

After completion of the program, graduates should be able to:

- Conduct methodologically impeccable scientific research in their field
- Generate new scientific results
- Reflect critically upon their own scientific methods and performance
- Analyze academic contributions in their field critically
- Contribute to scientific progress in their field and to encourage its interconnection with other, relevant disciplines

§ 2 Admission Requirements

(1) The prerequisite for admission to the PhD Program is the successful completion of a diploma or master's program in a relevant field, a diploma or master's program in a relevant field at a university of applied sciences (Fachhochschule), or of another, equivalent program at a recognized post-secondary educational institution in Austria or abroad.

(2) Dual application of examinations through credit transfer of examination grades from a program in a relevant discipline as referred to in (1) towards the PhD Program in Economics and Social Sciences is not permitted.

§ 3 Classification and Duration

The PhD Program in Economics and Social Sciences is a three-year degree program in social and economic sciences within the meaning of § 54 (1) of the Universities Act 2002.
