

WU Revision Funds

WU wants to actively promote high-quality publications.

In order to support researchers with requirements in the course of the publication process, a financial grant for necessary revisions (e.g. data collection, copy editing or data visualization) is provided as part of the "Revision Fund".

Only costs incurred in the course of a clearly defined revision requirement for publications in journals on the WU-wide Star Journal List and A-ranked journals in department-specific lists can be submitted for this grant.

Amount:

max. 4,000 euros per publication on the Star Journal List and max. 1,500 euros for A-ranked journals on the respective department list.

When selecting service providers, attention must be paid to subject-specific expertise and an appropriate price-performance ratio.

Important:

Please note that costs incurred will only be reimbursed retrospectively and only to WU cost centers or internal accounts.

The cost risk must be borne by the applicant.

Costs for open access publishing are not eligible for funding (separate funding scheme).

Eligibility requirements:

Only academic staff members of WU (with a current employment contract with WU) who have research as part of their job description are eligible to apply. Senior lecturers and external lecturers are not eligible to apply.

The prerequisite is the submission of a publication to an internationally recognized journal (from Star Journal List or journal from an A-ranked department-specific list) as well as the possibility of improving the publication after a peer review process.

In the event of a shortage of funds and equal quality, applicants who have not yet received funding will be given preference.
