

WU (Vienna University of Economics and Business) runs one of the most intensely used eLearning platforms in higher education worldwide. For the goals of further development of the eLearning platform WU is now inviting applications for the fulltime position of an IT system manager.

IT system manager (reference no.: 1253)

Fields and activities:

- Development and implementation of platform projects (teams of 1-5 persons)
- System administration of Learn@WU platform (basis: OpenACS, Linux, PostgreSQL, AOLServer)
- Technical support for teachers and students

Required qualifications and skills:

Completed academic degree or advanced study stage with specialization in IT, and professional experience. Proficiency in English, knowledge of German or willingness to learn German.

Desired qualifications and skills:

- Experience in operating and administration of high-performance Linux systems
- Experience in application development using tcl or other script languages
- Experience in designing and creation of web interfaces using web 2.0 technologies
- Sound knowledge of SQL and PL/pgSQL (PostgreSQL)
- Of advantage: knowledge of open source web frameworks and eLearning

Please submit your written application (including project list), stating the appropriate reference number given above, to the personnel department of WU (sekretariatpersabt@wu-wien.ac.at) by March 4th 2009.

