

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR NEED-BASED SCHOLARSHIP GRANTS

for the calendar year 2017, pursuant to §§ 63 - 67 of the Student Support Act (Studienförderungsgesetz, StudFG) 1992

Need-based scholarship grants are intended to promote the completion of academic theses (master theses and dissertations) for students in regular degree programs.

Need-based scholarship grants provide financial support to students while they are writing their academic thesis, for purposes such as research stays abroad (travel expenses, but not living expenses), complicated or time-intensive literature research, or empirical work necessary for completion of the thesis.

Secretarial and other incidental expenses (writing, printing, binding, copying, or telephone expenses, etc.) are not eligible for support, nor are expenses for supplies (e.g. computer, paper), nor expenses normally covered by the budget of the supervising Institute.

Need-based scholarship grants may not be below € 750 or exceed € 3,600.

Please note that the financial means available for need-based scholarships are limited and depend on the number of students to graduate from WU. The application requirements are therefore subject to change depending on the number of applications.
