

Examination statement: Remote Take-Home-Exam

Your exam will be conducted as a remote take-home-exam. This means that you may use your course notes, scripts, books and online resources to complete the exam. First, we would like to inform you about what is expected of WU students regarding remote take-home-exams.

Take your exam on your own

You must write your remote take-home-exam by yourself, without the help of others. This means that the cooperation with fellow students and other persons is not allowed, unless the lecturer has explicitly permitted it. Before handing in the exam, you have to confirm that you have done it by yourself.

Drafting an examination for another person corresponds to the criminal offence of falsification of documents and leads to a report to the public prosecutor's office without exception, which in turn may result in a criminal record.

Do not copy from colleagues

The plagiarism software used at WU recognizes if text modules appear in several student submissions. Therefore, please do not share your results with fellow students in order to prevent parts of them from being copied intentionally or unintentionally.

In case of fraudulent copying of exam results, those involved in the misconduct will lose an examination attempt and will be banned from taking and registering for the exam in question for a period of four months.

Cite all your sources correctly

Copying passages from the Internet or other sources without marking them as quotations is poor academic practice and leads to serious consequences. Therefore, please be sure to express your answers in your own words and refer to the sources when using direct quotations!

Your submission might be checked using WU's plagiarism detection software, which can recognize text modules from the Internet, but also from books and journal articles. If plagiarism is detected, the exam is annulled and you will be banned from taking and registering for the exam in question for a period of four months.

I certify,

- that I completed this remote take-home-exam on my own.
- that I didn't cooperate with any of my fellow students.
- that I didn't copy text passages from other people or made my own text passages available to others.
- that I have not used any other tools than those permitted and cited in the exam.

Signature: _____

