

JCCM Volume 1 (1998) – Table of Contents

S. Zafarpour	Introduction Einleitung	3 5
AUTHOR	TITLE	PAGE
P. E. Abraham	Interkulturelle Kommunikation in Krankenhäusern – ein Mythos? Ergebnisse einer empirischen Studie	7
C. Feichtinger & G. Fink	Post-Communist Management: Towards a Theory of the Collective Culture Shock	35
J. Fellerer, R. Rathmayr & K. Klingseis	Argumentation und Sprachgemeinschaft am Beispiel deutsch-russischer Verhandlungen	61
H. Helfrich	Das Dilemma des Kulturvergleich: nomothetischer und idiographischer Ansatz in der Kontroverse	99
N. J. Holden	Russia as a cross-cultural minefield: implications for the conceptual development of cross-cultural management studies	121
J. V. Koivisto	Television Advertisements as Cultural Symbols. A Cross-Cultural Semiotic Analysis of one European and one Japanese Symbol	147
A. Kuznetsov & O. Kuznetsova	Post-communist Economies and Conventions in Cross-Cultural Competence: From a System Specific to County-based approach	171
R. Lang, T. Steger & E. Weik	Personalmanagement in Mittel- und Osteuropa – ein institutionensoziologisches Erklärungsmodell	203
J. Langer	Considerations about Culture in an Era of Accelerated Social Change. The Post Communist Societies of East-Central Europe	241
S. Magala	Models of Competence (Cross-Cultural research and power shifts)	271
S. Nagy	Cultural Diversity and Cross-Cultural Management in Hungary	301
R. Ravagnani & C. Turati	Does National Culture Really Count? Assessing the Actual Impact of National Culture on Organizational Design and Behaviour	335