

WU Scholarship Essay Guidelines

GBSN

Only students of GBSN (Global Business School Network) member schools in developing countries are eligible to apply for the WU scholarship for students from GBSN member schools. A maximum of five students will have the chance to receive this scholarship.

Essay Topic: Investments in emerging markets

Coming to study at Vienna University of Economics and Business (WU), originally the Imperial Export Academy, implies dealing with global trade topics by its origins. Emerging markets are increasingly attracting investments from around the globe.

Please identify possible drivers for that trend and explain it based on a specific emerging market/ your home country.

Please use relevant academic literature to support your opinion and quote the sources used. You can also include best practice examples from your country to support your opinion.

The WU scholarship for students is non-recurring, i.e. students may only participate in one 3-week-session at ISU^{WU} at this rate.

All essays will be subject to a plagiarism check and must be submitted by the ISU^{WU} application deadline of March 31, 2020. The essay has to be submitted together with the application documents when applying for the ISU^{WU}. Accepted document formats: .pdf.

Guidelines for writing an essay for the WU Scholarship

If you are eligible to apply for the WU scholarship, you must submit an essay that meets the following criteria:

- 800 – 1000 words, approx. 2 DIN-A4 pages
- use online and offline scholarly literature (DO NOT limit your research to the internet only)
- use in-text citations of several sources
- include a comprehensive reference list at the end of your essay
- follow academic rules for citation and references (for guidelines see the Yale College Writing Center <http://writing.yalecollege.yale.edu/using-sources> or the Online Writing Lab of Purdue University <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/02/>).
- include a title page with the title of the paper, author's name and author's home university
- submit your essay together with you application files by March 31, 2020 as a .pdf.

Please note that the essay is individual work and not group work! Additionally, the guidelines and data protection for the ISU^{WU} apply to the essay. All essays will be reviewed in detail and copy-and-paste plagiarism will not be accepted! Essays which do not meet the criteria listed above will not be considered.
